

Terms & Conditions

1. Object of Sales Contract

The Supplier has agreed to manufacture and supply to the Purchaser lifts of certain specifications, as pre-agreed among the Parties and mentioned in Annex A attached hereto to form integral part hereof (hereafter called "Contract Products").

2. Payment Terms

The above sale price of the Products shall be paid in two instalments.

2.1 The first one amounts to 30% of the total value of this contract and should be paid within one week after the confirmation of the Contract.

2.2 The remaining 70% shall be paid two (2) weeks before the shipment of the Contract Products. A1 drawings will be given when the Supplier receives the 30% pre-payment and before production of the Contract Products begins.

The Supplier reserves title to the Products of the order or part of the order until receipt of all payments and receipt of the Products by the Purchaser.

2.3 If, at any point from the offer quotation to manufacture of the goods, the raw material costs of copper, aluminium alloy, inox alloy and steel scrap increase by an average of 10%, as determined by the London Metal Exchange(www.lme.com), Supplier reserves the right to unilaterally increase, and the Purchaser agrees to pay in full, the price thereof. The above provision will not apply as long as a) in case the Purchaser fully pays the value of the order within five (5) banking days since the order confirmation, unless a different time frame is agreed between the parties and b) delivery takes place within the delivery time indicated by the Supplier.

2.4 If, at any point from order confirmation to dispatch of the goods, the transportation costs increase by more than 20% of the price shown in the order confirmation document, Supplier reserves the right to charge, and the Purchaser agrees to pay in full, the total increased price thereof.

3. Delivery Schedule

The Supplier shall deliver the Contract Products EXW KUNHSAN according to Incoterms 2020, unless otherwise defined in the order confirmation. Delivery time shall be the one indicated in the order confirmation and is dependent on customer's written confirmation of the order's technical specifications and SPV or A1 drawings plus customer's settling the payment.

4. Delays

4.1 In case the Purchaser fails to pay the first instalment, according to Clause 2.1, the Supplier shall postpone the commencement of production. If failure to pay the first instalment exceeds 6 months, the Supplier shall have the right to withdraw from the contract and demand compensation for sustained damages, which in any case amount at least to 5% of the order's value. In case the Purchaser fails to pay the second instalment, according to Clause 2.2, the Supplier shall postpone the delivery of the Products and Clause 7.4 shall apply accordingly.

The delay of production commencement and of delivery shall be at least equivalent as the delay of the payment

4.2 It shall be observed by the Supplier subject to the provision of the order that all technical and commercial issues have been clarified between the two parties to the contract/agreement or order confirmation document and that the Purchaser has satisfied all its obligations such as the provision of necessary certificates or licenses issued by public authorities or effecting a down payment. If this is not the case, the terms of delivery shall be subject to corresponding delay without the obligation of a prior notice from the Supplier to the Purchaser.

5. Force Majeure

5.1. Neither party can be held responsible for non-fulfilment of the Contract or for any delay, provided the party proves that this is caused by force majeure, including, but not limited to, fire, export and import prohibitions, currency restrictions, war, civil disturbance, strikes, terrorism, epidemics, pandemics, diseases or public health emergencies specifically including but not limited to the COVID-19 outbreak or any other event similar to those described above (including but not limited to governmental interventions and restrictions, guidelines by public/social authorities, suspension of activities, modifications to working conditions and schedules, travel restrictions, internal company policies/measures/guidelines aimed to ensure the safety of employees and partners) or other obstructions beyond its control, which it could not reasonably have avoided or limited.

5.2. The party which does not fulfil the Contract because of force majeure reasons is obliged without delay to inform in writing the other party of the obstruction(s) and the implication of this for the fulfilment/performance of the Contract. The party is furthermore obliged loyally to co-operate in the limitation of the consequences in a force majeure situation.

5.3. If force majeure circumstances last longer than 90 calendar days, then either party shall be entitled to refuse from further fulfilment of obligations under the Contract. In this case the Contract shall be cancelled and the Parties shall make mutual settlements according to actually fulfilled obligations.

7. Purchaser's obligations

7.1. The Purchaser is obliged to respect and fulfil the payment terms.

7.2. The Purchaser is obliged to respect and apply all necessary and agreed by this Contract, precaution measures and safety requirements.

7.3. The Purchaser is obliged to check the Contract Products within two (2) days after the delivery. Any issues pertaining to quantity, specifications and quality should be brought to Supplier's attention within five working days after the delivery.

7.4. The Purchaser is obliged to receive the contract products on the agreed date. The Supplier shall offer free storage for no more than 15 days. After the 15 days have passed, the Supplier has the right to ask the Purchaser for 100 USD/week as storage charge. Any part of the week is counted as full week. If the storage time exceeds 6 months, the Supplier has the right to dismantle the product and shall not return the advance payment of Clause 2.1.

7.5 Due to the customization feature of the Product and the fluctuating situation of steel market price, in case where the Purchaser directly or indirectly requests or causes suspension of manufacture of the Product after confirmation of this Contract, the Supplier shall offer 3 month grace period. Upon expiration of such grace period, in the absence of Purchaser's further instruction of resuming manufacture, the Supplier has the discretion to 1) dismantle the product and not return the advance payment of Clause 2.1; or 2) resume manufacture based on agreement on new price of the Product according to updated price catalogue of the current month and new delivery date.

7.6. The supplier and the purchaser acknowledge that the ability to perform under these terms or a purchase contract or agreement is subject to compliance with applicable export/import control, trade or economic sanctions, embargo or similar laws, regulations, rules, licenses, orders or requirements, including money laundering and anti-terrorism, implemented at a local, regional, and international level (collectively, "Trade Restrictions"). Each Party agrees that any refusal or failure by the other Party to perform on account of compliance with Trade Restrictions or other legal requirements shall not constitute a breach of any obligation under these terms or a purchase contract or agreement. The purchaser is responsible for complying with and shall not do anything which would cause supplier to be in breach of Trade Restrictions, including, but not limited to, using, selling/reselling, exporting/re-exporting, or otherwise dealing with the supplier's products directly or indirectly, to any territory to which the supply of the products would be restricted or prohibited under Trade Restrictions (unless the purchaser obtains licenses and/or approvals required to make such a supply) or to any sanctioned party or any party owned or controlled by a sanctioned party or putting the products, in their entirety or in part, to any use in connection with the development, production, operation or dissemination of chemical, biological or nuclear weapons.

8. Entire Contract and Amendments

8.1. The terms and conditions of this Contract, as defined, constitute the complete and exclusive statement of the Contract between the Parties relating to the subject Matter of this Contract, superseding all previous negotiations and understandings, and may not be contradicted by evidence of any prior agreement. Terms and conditions included in special agreements, especially in the distributorship agreement, or in the order confirmation document, prevail over the general terms and conditions included herein.

8.2. This Contract or any Sales Contract entered into in accordance hereto may only be modified or amended by an amendment in writing signed by the Parties. Attachments can be replaced with revised Attachments, which shall be dated and signed by the Parties.

8.3. Actions concerning any alteration of the order's technical specifications and/or delivery date and/or method stated and confirmed in the order confirmation written documents imposed in writing by the Purchaser to the Supplier, shall be treated by the latter as a new order case, subsequently meaning revised price and technical specifications report and new delivery terms and conditions. The Purchaser shall bear the agreed price equivalent to the part performance already affected.

9. Partial Invalidity

In case this Contract or any part hereof is declared invalid or unenforceable by any legitimate authority, the remainder of the Contract shall continue on unchanged terms and conditions, and the Parties shall agree on replacement terms, which to the extent possible shall express the initial intention of the Parties.

10. Assignment

This Contract or any Sales Contract entered into in accordance hereto cannot be assigned by one of the Parties without the prior written approval of the other Party.

11. No Partnership

The provisions of this Contract shall neither constitute the Parties members of any Partnership or economic alliance nor confer on a Party any express or implied authority to act or incur obligation on behalf of the other Party.

12. Confidentiality and Limitation of Use of Information

The Supplier reserves intellectual property rights and copyrights concerning samples, cost estimates, drawings and any similar information of physical and non-physical nature- even in electronic format. Any information, being given orally or in writing or by any other media containing information, shall be considered confidential, and shall not, without the prior consent of the other Party, be given to a third party or be used for other purposes than set out herein. If not otherwise agreed, the Supplier equally reserves rights concerning trade marks and any other intellectual property rights of any kind apart from the aforementioned.

The Purchaser acknowledges that he will make use of the Products in the same conditions as they are received by him and not modify, deface or alter the Products in any way, or modify any labels, instructions, copyright material or identification insignia applied to or furnished in connection with the Products or affix to the Products any labels not previously approved by the Supplier.

The Purchaser agrees that it will not use any trademark, service mark, trade name or business name of the Supplier, except with the latter's prior written approval. This includes any trademarks, service marks, trade names, designs, copywriter photos or logos on the Internet.

13. Jurisdiction and Applicable Law

The formation, validity, performance interpretation and enforcement of this Contract shall be governed only by the laws of China, and the Parties hereby irrevocably submit only to the exclusive jurisdiction of the court where the supplier is located.

14. Notices

14.1. All references to notices in this Contract shall mean written notice and save where expressed to the contrary where any party is required to communicate any matter or thing to the other such communications shall be in writing and for the purposes of this clause "notice" shall include such communications.
